Old Business

South Side Historic District Nomination

Mullinnix stated that they she is compiling a list of houses with the potential to contribute to the eligibility of the Southside Historic District based on consultation with Brian Beadles, Wyoming State Historic Preservation Office. These buildings should maintain integrity of structures older than 50 years and will be used to inform cost estimate for historic consultants.

Relatedly, Heidi McCullough stated it has come to her attention that the old State Farm insurance building was potentially a structure from Fort Fetterman and that the current owner, Vicki Robertson, is open to the possibility of moving it back to Fort Fetterman rather than demolishing it. The commission should initiate conversion with Amen Ranch for storage and with Dominic at the state for a cost estimate.

Oral Histories

McCullough is working on purchasing equipment to assist in documenting oral histories.

American Doorstep Presentation Recap

Producers of documentary entitled “Born to Rein” presented to the City Council because the film involves the first Triple Crown Winning horse, Sir Barton, who died and was buried in Douglas. The producers suggested providing snippets of film to City for displays and asked council for funds.

Pioneer Cemetery Well

Kenny Simonton does not think the commission needs to as for money to fund this well because he will take care of it through private fund raising efforts.

Budget Request

Mullinnix suggested funding Section 106 training in Jackson Hole or for Barbara Bogart to come do and do an oral history workshop.

The commission agreed that we should request funds for additional Pioneer Cemetery brochures.

The Officer's Club no longer needs funds for their bills.

New Business:

Olli Historic Home Tour

Mullinnix mentioned that the Casper College Olli program wants a North Douglas Historic District home tour in June. If Commission members are unavailable to lead the program, Mullinnix will be available. The Olli program is the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute, which offers an array of classes, field trips, lectures, and social events designed for adults age 50 or over.

Preservation Month

Potential recipients for a Preservation Month award were discussed. No decision was made.

Adjournment:

Chairman McCullough adjourned the meeting at 6:30 p.m. The next regular meeting is scheduled for March 20, 2019 at City Hall, at 5:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Spencer Pelton
